Federal Government After International Harvester Company

(By United Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 23.—The Federal Government today filed in Federal Court here a brief in proceedings against the International Harvester Company asking that the consent decree of 1918 be reversed or an effective dissolution of the corporation ordered.

The brief prepared by Attorney General Stone declares that the 1918 decree, by which the company was to have disposed of the competitors it had absorbed, has "failed to restore proper competitive conditions."

"Either the judges who decided this case ought to be reversed upon the ground that their decision was wholly erroneous and that there never was justification for any form of dissolution or else an effective dissolution should be decreed," the brief states.

SALVATION ARMY ENDORSES THE NEFF HONOR FARM

DALLAS, Texas, October 23.—Assuring Governor Neff that the Salvation Army "stands ready and anxious to extend a helping hand to every man and woman discharged from Texas jails and prisons," Lieutenant Colonel Edwy White, Commander of the Southwestern Division of the Salvation Army, has strongly endorsed the establishing of Texas' first "honor" prison farm.

"My experience and training," said Colonel White in a letter to the Governor, "convinces me that this is a big stride in the right direction in dealing with the problem that is presented to the state by an ever increasing number of convicted criminals."

Just as the transition from liberty and civil life to incarceration in prison is marked by "vice, crime and conviction," "so may the path from fetters to freedom be marked by faith, hope and honor," Colonel White asserted.

"Unless it is, the path is not upward, but is a deep winding labyrinth with despair at the end," he added.

The results of welfare work among prisoners were said by Colonel White to be "priceless souls raised from the valley of despair to the high plains of redemption, and wasted lives transformed into economic usefulness."

Salvationists visit the county jails of the state regularly and do such work among the inmates as is proper and permissible, Colonel White said, at the same time expressing his appreciation of the co-operation given his officers by prison officials.

The first offender, the hardened criminal and the unfortunate girl all soon learn to trust the Salvation lassie, and they welcome her words of advice and the little services that she can render them or their families while awaiting trial or serving sentences, Colonel White declared.

The Salvation Army believes that these acts of kindness help to restore faith in humanity and that loss of this faith is responsible for most misery and suffering in the world, he explained.

The dirigible will moor here over night and take on 200,000 feet of helium and fuel. She is scheduled to get away for Lakehurst around 10 o'clock Friday morning. The ship left San Diego at noon Wednesday, Pacific coast time.

The Shenandoah's expected plans for a non-stop flight to Lakehurst were abandoned when the ship passed over El Paso, after "winds which would have been necessary for a long jump were found unfavorable," fifteen to twenty miles per hour beating against the ship. In addition three thousand pounds of gasoline, necessary for the long jump, had to be thrown overboard during the passage over the Rockies.

The ship was over Fort Hancock traveling 38 miles an hour, at 10:30 this morning, and is expected to reach here at midnight if present flying weather continues.

K. C. Bishop Stands For Bob Hair Flesh Colored Hose, Etc.

(By United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22.—Bobbed hair, flesh-colored hosiery and popular songs were defended by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of the Chicago area, speaking before the Methodist men's convention here last night.

"The elders are prone to be critical of the young," the Bishop declared. "We find fault with their hair, their dress and their language. At no time in fifty years have the relations between the passing and the coming generations been so strained."

The songs of the present generation were contrasted with those of a generation ago. The "banana" song of the present day is no worse than "Pharaoh's Daughter on the Bank, Little Moses in the Pool," sang 35 years ago by those who are now crying about "Youth's degeneracy," the Bishop said.

FRED MARBERRY GUEST OF THE ROTARY CLUB

Fred Marberry, World Series hero and greatest relief pitcher in the big leagues, was in Mexia today as a guest of the Rotary Club. Marberry jumped from the sand lot club of Streetman, Texas, to the Mexia Gushers, thence to Little Rock and then Washington in the short span of three years, the most remarkable record of any player in the big leagues.

Marberry stated Thursday morning that outside of Neff and Bentley that the New York Giants were weak on pitchers, although Barnes pitched fairly good ball until he "blew up." He stated that Lindstrom, the 18 year old third baseman on the Giant club was one of the greatest players at that position he had ever seen. Marberry was very complimentary of Manager "Buck" Harris of the Senators and thinks he is the greatest manager in baseball. He states that Harris just outgassed McGraw in winning the series.

Tommy Taylor, who played third base for the Senators during part of the series, played with a broken hand but did exceedingly well despite this handicap. Taylor was formerly of Mexia, his father was Baptist minister in this city a few years ago.

(By United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 23.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler independent vice-presidential candidate, kept a large audience delighted here last night and he grilled President Coolidge on the "witness stand."

Wheeler's address was a scathing denunciation of the republican administration and a defense of his running mate Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Rough and Tumbles in British Elections

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Razors, bottles, wrenches and stones figured in the British election campaign today.

In South London a man was knocked unconscious with a bottle and several others were severely injured by wrenches in the hands of hecklers.

SWEEPING CHARGES REGARDING NON-ENFORCEMENT OF VOLSTED ACT INVOLVES MANY HIGHER UPS

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A woman's letter served as the blast that stirred official Washington today from the White House to the Capitol in one of the most sensational prohibition indictments since the enactment of the Volstead act.

On the basis of that letter, President Coolidge stands accused by Samuel Untermyer, New York lawyer of having "used his power to prevent the people from learning the facts" concerning the alleged laxity in prohibition enforcement, which he said "amounts to a nation-wide scandal."

Attorney General Stone, also is charged by Untermyer with having suppressed until after election the letter "showing how this 'nation-wide scandal' was still going on."

The letter credited by Untermyer to Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, charges that she is unable to enforce the law because Senators and politicians use their influence to keep unfit prohibition officials in office.

According to the text made public by Untermyer, Mrs. Willebrandt said in the letter if she had the power she "would summarily remove" nine or ten United States attorneys for failure to act.

The letter represents Mrs. Willebrandt as stating that she had in "no uncertain terms" called such instances "to the attention of persons delegated to act."

"I have no apologies to make," Mrs. Willebrandt declared in admitting the authenticity of the letter ascribed to her by Untermyer. "I stand on every word."

AS THE FRANK SLAYERS LOOK TO-DAY.

You might not recognize them since guards took away their fine clothing, their names and their sleek hair cuts and gave them numbers to designate them from the other prisoners in the Joliet (Ill.) prison. But they are none other than the "aspermans" criminals—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, sons of Chicago millionaires, who killed little "Bobbie" Franks "for a thrill." They seem much subdued by the prospect of a life behind prison walls.

MEN AND WOMEN WHO FEATURE IN THE NEWS.

Below: MISS A. TIERCE, MRS. DELIA J. AKLEY, Mrs. MARY LEE JOBE, famous mountain climber, Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Robert M. La Follette, appearing before the Senate Committee "slush" fund inquiry in Chicago, asserted that $100,000,000 for campaign funds was the goal of the "invisible influences" backing President Coolidge. Reports that United States Senator Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, would not return to the Senate because of illness, have been denied in Boston by his grandson. The charge that Luis Angel Elvira committed perjury in his papers for entrance into the United States have been withdrawn by Canon William Sheena Chase, of Brooklyn, who sought to have the Argentine lighter reported.

LA FOLLETTE HAS NEW INFORMATN ON SLUSH FUND

(By United Press)
EN ROUTE WITH SENATOR LA FOLLETTE TO GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Oct. 23.—Senator Robert M. La Follette has "new information" regarding the huge slush fund he charges is being raised against him, he declared today as he set out for Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he is to speak tonight. The new information, he said, will be made public either from the platform or before the Birch investigation committee at Washington.

La Follette said one of his associates for spending the remainder of his campaign time in the east was to be close at hand to watch the "situation."

Large interests are attempting to coerce workers into voting for either President Coolidge or John W. Davis under threat of closing down factories and throwing thousands out of work, the independent candidate for the presidency declared.

"I am going into the East to finish my fight for the presidency," La Follette said, "for a number of reasons:

"First, I know that the West is for the progressive ticket and that if the progress is a term state with large electoral votes are carried by us we will win the election by the direct vote of the people on November 4.

"Second, I know that if the people of the Eastern states are permitted to render a verdict influenced only by their own desires and political convictions, we will carry those eastern states.

"Third, I know that Wall Street is an attempt to force the workers of the large industrial centers into voting for either Coolidge or Davis under threat of closing down every factory and throwing millions out of work in the event of my election.

"Fourth, important and vital information is being brought to me, a my train, every one regarding the huge slush fund which is being used by Wall Street in the industrial districts of states of the East. It is necessary that I should be near at hand in order to consult with my counsel and keep in close touch with this situation."

How a Clever New York Hostess Solved the Problem.

BY EVELYN BARR
The young Mrs. Van D., equally at home in the most select society in Chicago and New York, either takes after her grandmother or else she has the divine spark of inspiration. Only a few years ago a debutante, she is now one of the acknowledged leaders in the best circles—simply because of her ideas. Whenever a particularly clever "fad" sweeps society, it may often be traced to Mrs. Van D. Some nod their heads and recall the brilliance of her grandmother in the society of the old days—others simply watch her and take hints.

When Mah Jong awoke from the centuries and found itself famous in New York, Mrs. Van D. was among the first to see its possibilities.

But she was not satisfied simply to spread the acceptance of the ancient game—she had to make it interesting to those who played it with her—she had to give it atmosphere. That's one of Mrs. Van D.'s secrets—atmosphere. She surrounds everything she does with that air of "just right" which makes the simplest event glamorous and memorable—and many of her most successful ideas are really very simple when you come to analyze them.

She was one of the first to wear Chinese costumes whenever she played the game. When, one evening, at a game in her house, her guests discovered a strange and delightful odor of incense pervading the room, they knew that Mrs. Van D. had discovered another clever way for getting the right atmosphere for the Oriental game.

The problem of prizes which has always troubled hostesses, whether at card parties or charity balls, was therefore quickly solved by Mrs. Van D. for Mah Jong. Her prizes must blend into the right atmosphere, too.

Mrs. Van D. is widely read (perhaps that is where she gets some of her ideas) and she has the knack of giving books as presents which make the recipient feel that it is a personal expression of friendship. She knows that books are most satisfactory gifts when they are wisely chosen—that there is a book for everybody's taste.

Books with a Chinese flavor were therefore Mrs. Van D.'s solution to the problems of what to give her Mah Jong enthusiasts who doubled to victory! And she writes a little greeting on the flyleaf and the result is a cherished possession.

A favorite book, with men and women, is "Jade," a volume of San Francisco Chinatown stories, the strange Oriental atmosphere of which gets into one's bones like strong incense and which burns with cruel tragedy like the ruby eyes of some malignant idol. You wouldn't think that these stories, bound in a delightful jade green, were written by Hugh Wiley, the creator of the irrepressible "cuddled man" Wildcat.

For a very special prize for a very special occasion, Mrs. Van D. gives that gem of books, "The Art of the Chinese Potter," by R. L. Johnson and A. L. Rotherington. This volume costs fifty dollars—but while not everyone can follow Mrs. Van D. as far as this, the book prize idea is really a blessing for the woman who wants to make a little money go a long way in satisfaction, as books are really the most economical gifts.

To women, matrons and debs, and to men who like to read verse now and then, she gives the delightful translations of Chinese poetry, by Arthur Waley. Just as Mah Jong, the oldest game of the Orient, has become the most modern amusement of the West, so the ancient poems of China, as Waley translates them, appear strangely modern—although you can almost see the dragons and hear the East Wind in them. Waley can take a poem of the Han Dynasty (206 B. C. to 220 A. D.) and translate it so that the song of love and war of the old poet sounds as if it were written two thousand years later. Three volumes of Waley's charming translations have been published: "170 Chinese Poems" (in two editions, one popular-priced), "More Translations from the Chinese" and "The Temple and Other Poems."

Take, for instance, the poem "People Hide Their Love," written by the Emperor Wu of the Liang dynasty about the year 500 A. D.:

"Who says
That it's by my desire,
This separation, this living so far
from you?
My dress still smells of the lavender you gave:
My hand still holds the letter that you sent.
Round my waist I wear a double sash:
I dream that it binds us both with a same-heart knot.
Do you know that people hide their love,
Hide the flower that seems too precious to be picked?"

China has, of course, inspired many American poets. There is Eunice Tietjens's "Problems from China"—the result of living there—which pictures vividly the ancient land in a modern realistic way. And there are the lovely Chinese poems in Arthur Davidson Ficke's "Out of the Silence," just published.

With China, the home of Mah Jong as a starting place, Mrs. Van D. has gone on with her prize ideas until she covers the whole of that vast, mysterious and fascinating world, the Orient. She goes to Japan for the first modern Japanese novel ever translated into English, "An Adopted Husband," by Futabatei. And there is Waley again, with his charming "No Plays of Japan."

India contributes that splendid colorful drama with which George Arliss has had a tremendous run on stage and screen, "The Green Goddess," by William Archer. The land of the Arabian Nights adds James Elroy Flecker's "Hassan," a magnificent romantic spectacle which is to come to New York from London next season. Syria is represented by that remarkable poet, Kahlil Gibran, who has written and illustrated "The Forerunner," "The Madman," "Twenty Drawings" and "The Prophet." And for those who are interested in Egypt and in "history from the inside" there are "My Diaries" by that famous champion of the Eastern races, Wilfred Scawen Blunt, and his "Secret History of the English Occupation of Egypt."

So you see that Mrs. Van D. has not been limited in her choices—for everyone who likes Mah Jong she has found books that will surely please—at the same time rewarding the skill and paying a delicate compliment. While her friends are building the ever-intriguing walls of dainty tiles, she is helping them build libraries of ever-intriguing books—for those who turn their faces to the East Wind, her prizes express the very spirit of the East.

Smart Blouse for Immediate Wear

The collar, cuffs and front of the blouse are clearly illustrated almost as can be described. As in the first figure, fold and cross the hem of the edge to be cross-stitched. Work the cross-stitch from left to right, making only one half of the stitch. Now, turn to the right side of the garment and work back, placing the needle into the material between the first row of stitches. Certainly, the work could be simpler, if desired, rows of silk on the edge of the blouse may be used instead of red silk of one color may be used for one part of the stitch with a contrasting shade for the second part. Even in so simple a trimming it is possible to exercise one's taste for color combination and a beautiful blouse is one of the prettiest jewels in the wardrobe of the modern woman.

One has a broad choice in the selection of materials for smart blouses, even though the list be limited to the crepe de chine, satin, rayon, silk, flannels and Georgette, the most frequently featured. Still broadness could hardly be omitted from any list.

Simple and Distinctive

Just recently I had a smart blouse made in which Paris had a champion in the most successful blouse of the season. This blouse of dark brown crepe satin, with a simple, but cross-stitch embroidery in bright red silk.

This is an unusually smart blouse, for all its simplicity, and Paris is featuring it among her choicest models this season. It was originally developed in crepe satin, but looks well in any of the soft, pliable fabrics now in vogue. It fastens in surplice effect, calls for 2 1/2 yards of material 36 inches wide, and can be reproduced by the home dressmaker within a few hours. If desired, the embroidery may be omitted, though it adds a wonderfully smart touch to the blouse.

The first term six weeks exams have come and with much evidence to the Black Cat football squad. Several members of the squad were declared ineligible and the loss will tell on the squad.

Lucas was also lost from the squad for a while on account of injuries but he is out watching his team mates practice every afternoon and hopes to get back in some time during the next week in time to get to play in the Teague game.

The Black Kittens (Fish squad) journey to Coolidge Thursday afternoon to battle the Fish squad of the Coolidge Hi. The Kittens defeated the Coolidge squad 24 to 0 a week or so ago and hope to accomplish the same feat again.

There are several members of the Fish squad who have the makings of good football players and will be good subs for the next years squad. Masters, quarterback, Travis, half, Wiggins, center, and Ward, full, are showing up good.

In reporting the game, the Marlin Daily Democrat says, "Marlin, running roughshod over their lighter opponents defeated Mexia Hi 41 to 0, at Rimes Park Friday afternoon. However, Mexia flashed a belated forward pass attack in the closing stages of the game that might have permitted the visitors to cross the Bulldog goal line had it been launched early enough."

The Waco Tigers and Corsicana Tigers hook up in gridiron clash Friday in Corsicana and the Waco boys under Paul Tyson should emerge victors by a large score. The Corsicana boys have a good team but they will have lots of trouble with Paul Tyson's proteges.

The S. M. U. Mustangs are favored to win over the A. and M. Aggies in their clash Saturday in Dallas. Led by Chris Cornicaglia, who has been termed "the wild ball of the Brazos Valley" the S. M. U. Ponies seem to be headed for the Southwestern championship at a whirlwind gallop. Some think that the Aggies will be able to stop them but from the tales broadcasted from the Texas S. M. U. clash there seems to be little chance for Bible's Aggies.

It will be remembered that it was Riser who blocked an Aggie punt last year that gave the Ponies the break and aided them in defeating the Aggies. But there will hardly be a chance for the Ponies to block one of Fay Wilson's punts this year and the Aggies should have the Ponies outclassed in that department of the game.

The 1/2 mile coaches believe that they have perfected a machine that will stop any line plunging or running attack that the Mustangs might uncover but the outcome of the game will bear entirely upon whether or not it will be able to stop the neural attack of the Ponies if it does stop the plunging and running attack.

The Marlin Hi Bulldogs will play the Hillsboro Eagles in Hillsboro Friday states J. M. Wilson, Marlin Hi athletics manager. Neither

Natural Muskrat Gives Smart Air

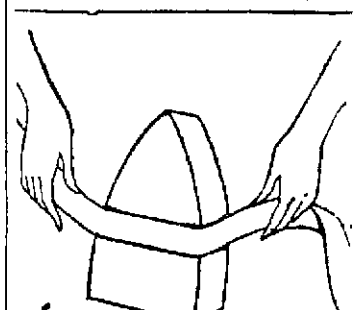

One of the most individual of the Paris models yet seen is this elegant line frock in rosewood panne velvet trimmed with colorful braid and natural muskrat.

The trimming as well as the material gives an unusually smart air to this frock, which achieves fullness for the skirt by the use of side panels, and includes the tie-bow with the deep collar. Pockets on either side of the front of the blouse are camouflaged by bands of colorful braid; the same trimming being repeated at the lower edges of the short sleeves and on the skirt panels above the bands of fur. If desired, however, both the panels and the pockets may be omitted, especially if the model is carried out in a less expensive material and assigned to more general service.

In the making of velvet dresses the home dressmaker should be very careful about pressing. For seams or for folds the correct way to press velvet of any variety or velvet, is to stand a warm iron on its base, then run the seam over the face of the iron rather than pressing the weight of the iron against the material. In the case of brocade materials the work has to be done very lightly, otherwise the figures will be obliterated, except when woven into the warp and woof.

In addition to brown the new blue called Lanvin would be lovely for this velvet frock. Lanvin is a mauve blue, quite as original and delightful as Lanvin green and generally be-

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

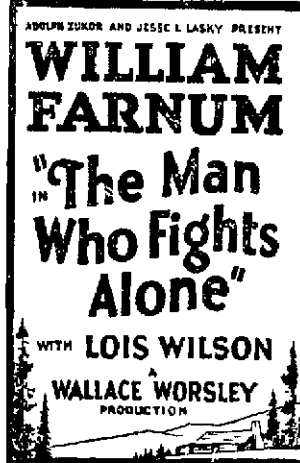

Just the moment you apply Men-tho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Men-tho-Sulphur at any drug store.

THE UNSEEN

Cheer up! An ounce of beauty is worth more than a ton of brick. One word of creative genius will outlast a pyramid. One thought that will "feed pure love and enkindle generous ardor" is of more value to the sum of things than a Carnegie fund or a Rockefeller foundation.

Once upon a time there was a man of small stature, a Jew, with defective vision, a common tramp-tentmaker, who wandered into Rome in the days of its glory, and looked about him in amazement. He was justled in the street by soldiers and hustled aside for the patrician's chariot to roll by. He gathered a few slaves and folk of the lower classes into a private house and told them of the Vision he had seen, and of the strange truth about life which the Vision had borne into his soul.

Upon the imperial throne sat a cross between a hog and a hyenna, who ruled the world. The hyena-hog killed the thinking Jew. Time came and had his say. Nero became a stench in the nostrils of mankind.

The words of the murdered Jew live today in millions of hearts, have stirred successive generations to a manlier fight with circumstances and grander scope of effort, and, burning brightly in the anteroom of death, have cheered innumerable voyagers on their way into the Unknown.

It was this Jew, Paul, who said:

"We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are unseen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal."

The common notion of men is directly contrary to this. According to that notion, land is spoken of as "real estate" and houses and book cases are referred to as "personal property," while dreams, convictions and opinions are regarded as most unreal and impersonal.

When we want a symbol of something that is enduring, something defying the tooth of time, we call up the image of the pyramids or the great wall of China or the Himalaya Mountains. Yet thoughts last longer than these, and when this globe and all that it inherits shall dissolve like some baseless fabric of our vision and leave not a wrack behind, Thoughts will be going on strong with the strength of eternal youth.

The argument that convinces of immortality is not the permanence of our bodies but the very fact that they are de- cious, and we are convinced that our real self is that unflin- ging spirit that knows no death.

Uncivilized people are the ones who don't buy their heads in jewelry stores.

Mr. Dawes' speeches are beginning to sound as if it is about time to have the brakes tested.

The village loafer moves that the word "child" be stricken from "child labor amendment" and the measure added to the law.

"Wanderlust" is a mania ascribed to those who will not settle down and those who prefer to keep going rather than settle up.

The discovery was made by Dr. James T. Gwathmey and is claimed to eliminate the danger of poison- ing the child which was the cause of "blue babies" under the first method of using "twilight sleep."

Dr. Gwathmey's discovery con- sists in the use of scopolamin, thus reducing the danger of toxic effects on the child.

Calls Advertising Art Great Cultural Factor

Rip Van Winkle, a sample of the work of Arthur Rackham, latest artist to paint for advertisements.

AMERICAN appreciation of art is being engendered as much by American advertising art as by any other agency in the artistic field. This novel statement is made by E. C. Babcock, of the well known Babcock Galleries of New York, who has just completed an exhaustive study of the art of today.

"Perhaps it seems a far cry to compare the advertising pages of a magazine with an art museum as a factor in building an appreciation of art," says Mr. Babcock, "but let us make the comparison with care. The museums and private galleries are, of course, hung with the works of masters, but they reach nothing like so vast a public as the magazine and newspaper of today."

"The art used in modern advertising reaches the masses, its distribution is tremendous. And American advertising art is far ahead of that of the rest of the world. It is most encouraging to see the work of the celebrated English artist, Arthur Rackham, who has never before done any such commercial work, being used by a house like Colgate and Company. This is an instance of the new function of advertising as an aid to art, and a significant one. Newspapers and magazines more and more universally have the work of artists of noted skill, which is fine for the public, and good for the artists and the advertising. It is a new factor in the artistic world which must be recognized. On the whole, I believe art is as much indebted to industry as industry is indebted to art."

EXCITING PIGSKIN BATTLE EXPECTED FRIDAY AFTERNOON ON LOCAL GRIDIRON AT 3:30

If the weather conditions do not change within the next twenty-four hours, the Mexia Hi Black Cats and the Hubbard City Jackrabbits will have the most ideal football weather of the season for the game Friday afternoon. So far the games have been mostly slow and sluggish, without much pep on account of the weather.

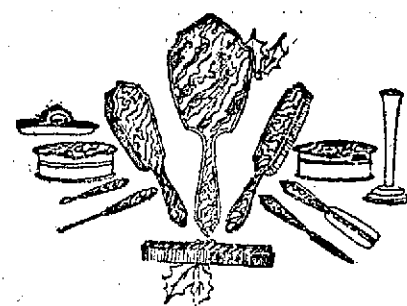

As all followers of the High School will remember that several years ago these two schools were the most bitter rivals of any in this section and the big game of the season always was looked forward to when Hubbard and Mexia came together on the gridiron. These schools have not played for a good many years and the visitors are of unknown quantity, although we have not heard of them losing any games so far this season.

Coach Potest has his squad in good physical condition with the exception of Lucas, who has a bad shoulder, and Buford who will be out of Friday's game. This is the last chance local football fans will have an opportunity of seeing the Black Cats in action at home for perhaps several weeks, as the next two games will be played in Teague and at Groesbeck, as yet the dates of November 14th. and 21st. remain open with the final game of the season coming on the local Gridiron Turkey Day when Coach Country Williamson comes to Mexia with his Mart aggregation.

The game will start promptly at 3:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon, at Newlin park. Every backer of the Mexia High School be on hand to watch the Cats fight their way to victory.

FARRELL TALKS ON PROSPECTS OF FOOTBALL WINNERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(C. A. Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—With half the season gone and with most of the big professional games out of the way, the football press of the United States is interested in the prospects of the winners.

Marquette has defeated the Navy, Notre Dame has defeated the Army, Chicago has beaten Brown and Northwestern has won at Illinois.

Notre Dame has three more important games ahead. Princeton, Georgia Tech and Carnegie Tech, and it is only a matter of time before the victory will be chalked up for the Irish.

The Navy has a good record, but it is not a sure thing of any kind of success in the future. In twenty years it has won only one conference trophy and championship. One year won 17, but lost and lost.

Missouri, one of the big powers of the Midwest Valley conference last Chicago 3 to 0. Last year came up from the South and beat Indiana and Little Rock. Wisconsin to a tie.

Notre Dame has two more games with great teams, Wisconsin and Northwestern, and the chance to win a third for the conference trophy. The Wisconsin-Notre Dame game will be one of the biggest games of the year as the conference is held up to a final battle Wisconsin to defend the possession of the "Big Ten."

Notre Dame is going into the Princeton game Saturday with a team that Robert Ruckus is worried about. The writer saw Notre Dame work out yesterday at South Bend and Ruckus admitted that he was not so sure. Ruckus is a double in everything, but he is worried about it.

Walt Whitman who is making an American birth, is out of the game for three weeks with broken hands and Ruckus admits solemnly that he had no one to take his place.

The Notre Dame squad leaves tonight for Princeton and the University of Chicago squad also will leave for the Cardinals, where the two will play the big game of the conference work against Ohio State on Saturday.

There Was Slush Fund in 1920 Also

(By United Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Oct. 21.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler charged that E. T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia banker, named by Senator La Follette as a direct beneficiary of republican fund contributions in 1920, was assuming control of an attempt to raise an alleged huge slush fund for republican campaign purposes, in a speech here last night.

Speaking to a representative gathering of the farmer-labor party the independent vice presidential candidate related the story of the indictment in 1922 of officials of the United Gas Improvement Company of which Stotesbury was a director.

R. Colton Lewis, who was attorney when the indictment was returned but was supplanted by Harry F. West, testified before the Brookhart investigating committee, Wheeler declared.

"Put yourself in Attorney General Daugherty's position," Lewis told the committee that "West said to him," Wheeler said. "He has indicted these people and finds now they are friends and contributed to the campaign of which he was in charge."

The cases were denied after many delays in their prosecution, Wheeler said.

Long, Hard Winter Coming, Says Famous Washington Meteorologist

"We are going to have an early, long and severe winter."

This isn't the usual, annual prediction of the coal merchant, nor the idle sales talk of the fur-coat salesman. It comes from no less an authority than Herbert J. Browne, famous Washington meteorologist.

Mr. Browne has recently jumped into prominence by his uncanny, long-distance weather predictions which have come true in every case, over a period of years. His new scientific theories for weather forecasting have been heralded widely in both scientific and popular magazines, here and abroad.

Coal merchants, fur-coat salesmen and the public do give heed to Browne's advice. So do railroads, steamship lines and winter resorts. The extent to which the latter great American business is affected by his predictions is suggested in a recent announcement in a Florida paper:

"With supreme confidence in the predictions of Herbert J. Browne, who has announced an early, long and severe winter, directors of the Miami Chamber of Commerce, have decided to announce the opening of the Miami season in November, a month earlier than any previous season in Florida history."

"To this decision the Chamber was aided by assurance of co-operation of railroads, steamship lines and hotels. Through trains from Chicago to Miami will this year begin November 15, with corresponding advance in dates of through cars from eastern and middle western cities. Arthur Pryor has also consented to increase the Miami stay of his famous band to eighteen weeks, coming down for the earlier opening. Racing, golf, tennis and other schedules have been arranged accordingly, with a number of sport tournaments scheduled for November."

The American Automobile Association has estimated that 60,000 motor tourists will this year make an early start southward, for whom the Association has prepared a special tour book showing all roads leading to Miami.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE
WILL CONTEST
MONOPOLY
OF AIR

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The Chicago Tribune today announced it would test the validity of the Associated Press rule prohibiting member newspapers from broadcasting election returns and news matter furnished by the news agency or collected from territory to which the Associated Press exclusively is entitled.

It is a clash between the old and the new Tribune declared. The following excerpt of the Associated Press notice, just received by the Tribune, is the nub of the situation:

"You are requested to co-operate in enforcement of the established rules governing the display of bulletins and preventing utilization of for radio broadcasting of Associated Press returns from your territory to which the Associated Press exclusively is entitled."

"By this notice the Associated Press seeks to prevent the radio dissemination of news by member newspapers—in this case the results of the National election—into the homes of the people. The Tribune will test the validity of this rule," the Tribune declared in part.

"The issue is regarded as in effect a clash between the old and the new. The ruling seems not to take into account the new element in modern life which has enabled leaders in politics and other lines to activity to speak direct to millions during the present campaign. It would forbid the broadcasting of any Cook county election results by the Tribune for example, no matter if collected by the paper's own reporters."

"This rule appears to take on the aspect of monopolistic control. It is a rule of direct advantage to the Tribune to circulate important news by radio on the night before its morning issue appears with the identical news. Perhaps it would seem more easy to preserve in darkness the news that Coolidge had been elected or that there is a deadlock over the presidency until it could be revealed to the interested public at the news stands on the morning after."

"But this is the era of radio like other papers, the Tribune, recognizing this fact has established a broadcasting bureau—at considerable expense and with no tangible compensatory returns. The people have installed radios in their homes; they listen to public addresses; they want and expect the quick announcement of election results."

Accordingly, before yielding to the ruling of the Associated Press, this newspaper proposes to consult lawyers and seek a ruling in the courts—even to the highest court.

Country's Record Year for Big Disasters;
Red Cross Gives Relief in Many States

RED CROSS WORKERS AND NURSE RESCUING A TORNADO VICTIM FROM RUINS OF HIS HOME.

WHEN the angry elements crash man's works about him; wherever tornado, cyclone, flood, fire, explosion inflict death, injury and misery, the news dispatches almost invariably convey the assurance that Red Cross nurses and workers are on duty immediately. In the 12 months ended June 30 last, the American Red Cross administered relief in 192 disasters, a new annual record in the United States.

"This was a monthly average of 16 disasters. The year's total deaths amounted to 737, nearly 2,000 persons were injured, and almost 11,000 were left homeless. Every week of the year the disaster loss was a little under a million dollars, the total losses for the year being estimated at more than $15,000,000.

"The annual report of the American Red Cross states that disasters wrecked 2,150 buildings and damaged $2,230, in the territory embraced from Maine to California and Minnesota to Texas. The Red Cross in all areas housed 6,700 persons, 2,900 alone after the recent tornado in Northern Ohio, and the organization furnished food to 25,100.

"The year's disasters included 13 great fires, 10 floods, six mine explosions, a powder mill explosion and an explosion in a starch factory, three cloudbursts, seven cyclones, 14 tornados, and five disasters due to hail or wind storms. All the tornados occurred during the latter part of April, in May and June. The Red Cross disbursed in relief work $737,693.87 of National and Chapter funds.

"The industry of the Red Cross doesn't end when the immediate needs of the injured and homeless are satisfied, but its workers are busy over long periods in devastated districts engaged in rehabilitating the victims. In 33 of the larger disasters of the year the trained workers from the National organization continued in service for many months.

"The whole nation looks to the Red Cross when calamity strikes, and the organization in the last year increased its equipment so as to be certain that it will retain this national confidence. Under the direction of executives at Washington a mobile disaster unit has been organized with a reserve of experienced disaster workers standing ready for any call to duty anywhere. This unit has at its service the airplanes of the Army, Navy and Post Office Department and can place its nurses and administrators in the midst of a woe-stricken section in the shortest possible time.

"The six mine explosions were especially severe in taking toll of life, 333 men being killed. This type of disaster always means long time family tragedies due to the loss of wage earners and involves the setting up of trust funds through Red Cross activity for the care and education of minor children and provision for widowed mothers.

"Tornados and floods cause the most widespread desolation. No one can escape their path. The latter belongings of rich and poor are piled in a confused tangle. After the first shock or organization begins to assert itself invariably close to the center of concerted endeavor is found the local Red Cross Chapter, whose volunteer workers drop everything to give relief, and this work is intelligently done because these workers have been schooled in effective methods of handling such problems.

"The universal presence of the Red Cross in time of great distress is not surprising when it is known that there are more Red Cross Chapters than there are counties in the United States; that the six divisions of the national organization have headquarters at Boston, Chicago, Atlanta, Washington, St. Louis and San Francisco. The Division has an organization similar to that of National Headquarters at Washington, and the Division managers comprise an executive staff in the field competent to handle every situation in which the industry and humanitarian endeavors of the American Red Cross are enlisted.

"Those who have gone to the scenes of devastation have been impressed and inspired by the way the Red Cross people drop in line to give relief in time of dire need. This work never rests and it is a foremost activity of the Red Cross which illustrated why in peace time the American Red Cross needs great strength in interested members back of it. It is one of the foremost reasons why everybody is urged to join or renew membership in the Red Cross this year during the enrollment period opening Armistice Day, November 11, and ending Thanksgiving Day, November 27. As the extent of Red Cross operations depends upon the strength of individual memberships the reason for joining has a direct appeal to all persons—for the Red Cross is the people's "legion of mercy."

BIG DIRIGIBLE, SHENANDOAH AGAIN IN TEXAS FOR NIGHT

REMAINS OF EXPLOSION VICTIMS TO BE SHIPPED TO GORMAN FOR INTERMENT

The remains of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Capers, who died at the Brown Hospital Tuesday as a result of a gas explosion in their home north of Wortham early Tuesday morning, will be sent to Gorman, Texas tonight for interment, which will take place Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

The two children, Gordon age 7, and Marjita age 4 are resting a little better and hope is held for their recovery.

Miss Mildred Capers, sister of the deceased arrived here Wednesday night to join other relatives in their sorrow. Another sister, Mrs. E. A. Menefee of Fort Worth is unable to be here on account of illness.

Federal Government After International Harvester Company

(By United Press)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 23.—The Federal Government today filed in Federal Court here a brief in proceedings against the International Harvester Company asking that the consent decree of 1918 be reversed or an effective dissolution of the corporation ordered.

The brief prepared by Attorney General Stone declares that the 1918 decree, by which the company was to have disposed of the competitors it had absorbed, has "failed to restore proper competitive conditions."

"Either the judges who decided this case ought to be reversed upon the ground that their decision was wholly erroneous and that there never was justification for any form of dissolution or else an effective dissolution should be decreed," the brief states.

SALVATION ARMY ENDORSES THE NEFF HONOR FARM

DALLAS, Texas, October 23.—Assuring Governor Neff that the Salvation Army "stands ready and anxious to extend a helping hand to every man and woman discharged from Texas jails and prisons," Lieutenant Colonel Edwy White, Commander of the Southwestern Division of the Salvation Army, has strongly endorsed the establishing of Texas' first "honor" prison farm.

"My experience and training," said Colonel White in a letter to the Governor, "convince me that this is a big stride in the right direction in dealing with the problem that is presented to the state by an ever increasing number of convicted criminals."

Just as the transition from liberty and civil life to incarceration in prison is marked by "vice, crime and conviction," so may the path from fetters to freedom be marked by faith, hope and honor," Colonel White asserted.

"Unless it is, the path is not upward, but is a deep winding labyrinth with despair at the end," he added.

The results of welfare work among prisoners were said by Colonel White to be "priceless souls raised from the valley of despair to the high plains of redemption, and wasted lives transformed into economic usefulness."

Salvationists visit the county jails of the state regularly and do such work among the inmates as is proper and permissible, Colonel White said, at the same time expressing his appreciation of the co-operation given his officers by prison officials.

The first offender, the hardened criminal and the unfortunate girl all soon learn to trust the Salvation lassie, and they welcome her words of advice and the little services that she can render, them or their families while awaiting trial or serving sentences, Colonel White declared.

The Salvation Army believes that these acts of kindness help to restore faith in humanity and that loss of this faith is responsible for most misery and suffering in the world, he explained.

ENROUTE HOME PAYS FORT WORTH POP CALL

(By United Press)
FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 23.—The Shenandoah passed over El Paso shortly after 7 o'clock this morning en route here, where she is expected to arrive about 4 o'clock this afternoon. The dirigible will moor here over night and take on 200,000 feet of helium and fuel. She is scheduled to get away for Lakehurst around 10 o'clock Friday morning. The ship left San Diego at noon Wednesday, Pacific coast time.

The Shenandoah's expected plans for a non-stop flight to Lakehurst were abandoned when the ship passed over El Paso, after "winds which would have been necessary for a long jump were found unfavorable," fifteen to twenty miles per hour beating against the ship. In addition three thousand pounds of gasoline, necessary for the long jump, had to be thrown overboard during the passage over the Rockies.

The ship was over Fort Hancock traveling 38 miles an hour, at 10:30 this morning, and is expected to reach here at midnight if present flying weather continues.

RESCUE SQUADS ATTEMPTING TO REACH VICTIMS

(By United Press)

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 23.—Rescue squads today were attempting to reach five men entombed 220 feet below the surface of the earth in the workings of the mine of the Hart Coal Corporation which was wrecked late yesterday by a dust explosion.

Nine men were trapped by the blast which occurred shortly after 250 workers had left the mine for the day, but four crawled out through an abandoned shaft. The explosion shot a flame 100 feet into the air.

The remaining five men at first were believed to have been killed outright. Later, however, one of the entombed miners shouted up a shaft that all had escaped injury.

Cecil Taylor left on the noon train for Eagle Lake where he has accepted a position as relief manager of the Western Union.

K. C. Bishop Stands For Bob Hair Flesh Colored Hose, Etc.

(By United Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22.—Bobbed hair, flesh-colored hosiery and popular songs were defended by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of the Chicago area, speaking before the Methodist men's convention here last night.

"The elders are prone to be critical of the young," the Bishop declared. "We find fault with their hair, their dress and their language. At no time in fifty years have the relations between the passing and the coming generations been so strained."

The songs of the present generation were contrasted with those of a generation ago. The "banana" song of the present day is no worse than "Pharaoh's Daughter on the Bank, Little Moses in the Pool," sung 35 years ago by those who are now crying about "Youth's degeneracy," the Bishop said.

FRED MARBERRY GUEST OF THE ROTARY CLUB

Fred Marberry, World Series hero and greatest relief pitcher in the big leagues, was in Mexia today as a guest of the Rotary Club. Marberry jumped from the sand lot club of Streetman, Texas, to the Mexia Gushers, thence to Little Rock and then Washington in the short span of three years, the most remarkable record of any player in the big leagues.

Marberry stated Thursday morning that outside of Neff and Bentley that the New York Giants were weak on pitchers, although Barnes pitched fairly good ball until he "blew up." He stated that Lindstrom, the 18 year old third baseman on the Giant club was one of the greatest players at that position he had ever seen. Marberry was very complimentary of Manager "Buck" Harris of the Senators and thinks he is the greatest manager in baseball. He states that Harris just outgassed McGraw in winning the series.

Tommy Taylor, who played third base for the Senators during part of the series, played with a broken hand but did exceedingly well despite this handicap. Taylor was formerly of Mexia, his father was Baptist minister in this city a few years ago.

Candidate Wheeler Raps Pres. Coolidge

(By United Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 23.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler independent vice-presidential candidate, kept a large audience delighted here last night and he grilled President Coolidge on the "witness stand."

Wheeler's address was a scathing denunciation of the republican administration and a defense of his running mate Senator Robert M. LaFollette.

"In voting against war, La Follette followed the dictates of a vast majority. But he never stabbed our soldiers in the back, when they were in France. He never stabbed them in the back when they came home. He has voted always to help the disabled," Wheeler declared.

Rough and Tumbles in British Elections

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Razors, bottles, wrenches and stones figured in the British election campaign today.

Violence, reminiscent of the days of the suffragettes and the Irish disturbers, marred meetings in many constituencies.

A 22-year-old Dulwich man was sent to the hospital in a critical condition with a razor gash from mouth to ear, attained in a melee designed to break up a conservative meeting. In South London a man was knocked unconscious with a bottle and several others were severely injured by wrenches in the hands of hecklers.

SWEEPING CHARGES REGARDING NON-ENFORCEMENT OF VOLSTEAD ACT INVOLVES MANY HIGHER UPS

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A woman's letter served as the blast that stirred official Washington today from the White House to the Capitol in one of the most sensational prohibition indictments since the enactment of the Volstead act.

On the basis of that letter, President Coolidge stands accused by Samuel Untermyer, New York lawyer of having "used his power to prevent the people from learning the facts" concerning the alleged laxity in prohibition enforcement.

According to the text made public by Untermyer, Mrs. Willebrandt said in the letter if she had the power she "would summarily remove" nine or ten United States attorneys for failure to act.

The letter represents Mrs. Willebrandt as stating that she had in "no uncertain terms" called such instances "to the attention of persons delegated to act."

"I have no apologies to make," Mrs. Willebrandt declared in admitting the authenticity of the letter ascribed to her by Untermyer. "I stand on every word."

THE COLDEST NIGHT.

Weather Observer Newman reports that the thermometer registered 40 Wednesday night, the coldest yet this fall and the frost line. Frost was visible in low places.

ment, which he said "amounts to a nation-wide scandal."

Attorney General Stone, also is charged by Untermyer with having suppressed until after election the letter "showing how this 'nation-wide scandal' was still going on."

The letter credited by Untermyer to Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, charges that she is unable to enforce the law because Senators and politicians use their influence to keep unfit prohibition officials in office.

According to the text made public by Untermyer, Mrs. Willebrandt said in the letter if she had the power she "would summarily remove" nine or ten United States attorneys for failure to act.

The letter represents Mrs. Willebrandt as stating that she had in "no uncertain terms" called such instances "to the attention of persons delegated to act."

"I have no apologies to make," Mrs. Willebrandt declared in admitting the authenticity of the letter ascribed to her by Untermyer. "I stand on every word."

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—The Angeles teapot dome inquiry was reviewed by opposing counsel at the resumption of the hearing of the government's suit to break the leases of E. L. Doheny on California Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserves. Government attorneys said they would trace the destination of the "little black bag," said to have contained $100,000 of Doheny's money left in a New York bank, and whether the money went to former Secretary of the Interior Albert Fall.

Mrs. F. P. Hutchinson left Wednesday, on the noon train for Dallas where she will spend the week.

ONTARIO VOTING ON WHISKEY QUESTION TODAY

(By United Press)

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—Ontario voters went to the polls today in what is considered the most important provincial elections in years so far as limited prohibition in Canada is concerned.

Booze Vs. Milk In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 23.—Once it was milk the boy delivered at the break of dawn—now it's whisky.

At least a Mexican boy here delivered whisky on a regular route until local officers waited a few yards from the doorstep and nabbed both the boy and the customer.

According to the officers, the boy had been making his deliveries under the guise that he was working for a dairy for several weeks.

The bottle which had been delivered was broken by the customer before the officers could confiscate it.

MEN AND WOMEN WHO FEATURE IN THE NEWS.

Above: FRANK R. WALSH & HENRY CABOT LODGE.
Below: LUIS A. FIRPO & MRS. DELIA J. AKELEY.

While Mrs. Delia J. Akeley, noted big game hunter, is in the African Congo hunting lions and elephants for the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Museum of Natural History, her divorced husband, Carl Akeley, himself a noted hunter, is honeymooning with his second wife, the former Miss Mary Lee Joie, famous mountain climber. Frank R. Walsh, attorney for Robert M. La Follette, appearing before the Senate Committee "slush" fund inquiry in Chicago, asserted that $100,000 for campaign funds was the goal of the "invisible influences" backing President Coolidge. Reports that United States Senator Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, would not return to the Senate because of illness, have been denied in Boston by his grandson. The charge that Luis Angel Firpo committed perjury in his papers for entrance into the United States have been withdrawn by Canon William Sheate Chase, of Brooklyn, who sought to have the Argentine hunter deported.

AS THE FRANK SLAYERS LOOK TO-DAY.

You might not recognize them since guards took away their fine clothing, their names and their shik hair cuts and gave them numbers to designate them from the other prisoners in the Joliet (Ill.) prison. But they are none other than the "supermen" criminals—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, sons of Chicago millionaires, who killed little "Bobbie" Franks "for a thrill." They seem much subdued by the crosscut of a life behind prison walls.

LA FOLLETTE HAS NEW INFORMATION ON SLUSH FUND

(By United Press)
EN ROUTE WITH SENATOR LA FOLLETTE TO GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Oct. 22.—Senator Robert M. La Follette has "new information" regarding the huge slush fund he charges is being raised against him, he declared today as he set out for Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he is to speak tonight. The new information, he said, will be made public either from the platform or before the Borah investigation committee at Washington.

La Follette said one of his reasons for spending the remainder of his campaign time in the east was to be close at hand to watch the "situation."

Large interests are attempting to coerce workers into voting for either President Coolidge or John W. Davis under threat of closing down factories and throwing thousands out of work, the independent candidate for the presidency declared.

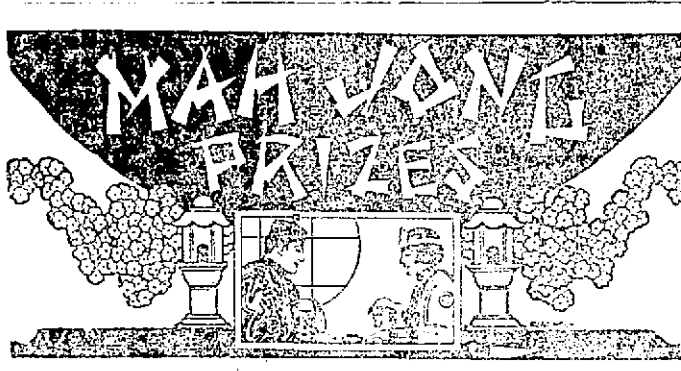

"I am going into the East to finish my fight for the presidency," La Follette said, "for a number of reasons:

"First, I know that the West is for the progressive ticket and that if the progressive eastern states with large electoral votes are carried by us we will win the election by the direct vote of the people on November 4.

"Second, I know that if the people of the Eastern states are permitted to render a verdict influenced only by their own desires and political convictions, we will carry these eastern states.

"Third, I know that Wall Street is attempting to coerce the workers of the large industrial centers into voting for either Coolidge or Davis under threat of closing down every factory and throwing millions out of work in the event of my election.

"Fourth, important and vital information is being brought to me, at my train, every day regarding the huge slush fund which is being used by Wall Street in the industrial districts of states of the East. It is necessary that I should be near at hand in order to consult with my counsel and keep in close touch with this situation."

How a Clever New York Hostess Solved the Problem.

BY LVELYN BARR

THE young Mrs. Van D., equally at home in the most select society in Chicago and New York, either takes after her grandmother or else she has the divine spark of inspiration. Only a few years ago a debutante, she is now one of the acknowledged leaders in the best circles—simply because of her ideas. Whenever a particularly clever "lad" sweeps society, it may often be traced to Mrs. Van D. Some nod their heads and recall the brilliance of her grandmother in the society of the old days—others simply watch her and take hints.

When Mah Jong awoke from the centuries and found itself famous in New York, Mrs. Van D. was among the first to see its possibilities.

But she was not satisfied simply in spreading the acceptance of the ancient game—she had to make it interesting to those who played it with her—she had to give it atmosphere. That's one of Mrs. Van D.'s secrets—atmosphere. She surrounds everything she does with that air of "just right" which makes the simplest event glamorous and memorable—and many of her most successful ideas are really very simple when you come to analyze them.

She was one of the first to wear Chinese costumes whenever she played the game. When, one evening, at a game in her house, her guests discovered a strange and delightful odor of incense pervading the room, they knew that Mrs. Van D. had discovered another clever way for getting the right atmosphere for the Oriental game.

The problem of prizes which has always troubled hostesses, whether at card parties or charity balls, was therefore quickly solved by Mrs. Van D. for Mah Jong. Her prizes must blend into the right atmosphere, too!

Mrs. Van D. is widely read (perhaps that is where she gets some of her ideas) and she has the knack of giving books as presents which make the recipient feel that it is a personal expression of friendship. She knows that books are most satisfactory gifts when they are wisely chosen—that there is a book for everybody's taste.

Books with a Chinese flavor were therefore Mrs. Van D.'s solution to the problem of what to give her Mah Jong enthusiasts who doubled to victory! And she writes a little greeting on the flyleaf and the result is a cherished possession.

A favorite book, with men and women, is "Jade," a volume of San Francisco Chinatown stories, the strange Oriental atmosphere of which gets into one's bones like strong incense and which burns with cruel tragedy like the ruby eyes of some malignant idol. You wouldn't think that these stories, bound in a delightful jade green, were written by Hugh Wiley, the creator of the irrepressible "cattail man" Whidcat.

For a very special prize for a very special occasion, Mrs. Van D. gives that gem of books, "The Art of the Chinese Potter," by R. L. Hobson and A. L. Hetherington. This volume costs fifty dollars—but while not everyone can follow Mrs. Van D. as far as this, the book prize idea is really a blessing for the woman who wants to make a little money go a long way in satisfaction, as books are really the most economical gifts.

To women, matrons and debs, and to men who like to read verse now and then, she gives the delightful translations of Chinese poetry, by Arthur Waley. Just as Mah Jong, the oldest game of the Orient, has become the most modern amusement of the West, so the ancient poem of China, as Waley translates them, appear strangely modern—although you can almost see the Dragons and hear the East Wind in them. Waley can take a poem of the Han Dynasty (206 B. C. to 220 A. D.) and translate it so that the song of love and war of the old poet sounds as if it were written two thousand years later. Three volumes of Waley's charming translations have been published: "The Chinese Poems" (in two editions, one popular-priced), "More Translations from the Chinese" and "The Temple and Other Poems."

Take, for instance, the poem "People Hide Their Love," written by the Emperor Wu-ll of the Tang dynasty about the year 500 A. D.

"Who says
That it's by my desire,
This separation, this living so far
from you?
My dress still smells of the lavender
you gave;
My hand still holds the letter that you sent.
Round my waist I wear a double sash;
I dream that it binds us both with a same-heart knot.
Do you know that people hide their love,
Hide the flower that seems too precious to be picked?"

China has, of course, inspired many American poets. There is Elinore Tietjen's "Profiles from China"—the result of living there—which pictures vividly the ancient land in a modern realistic way. And there are the lovely Chinese poems in Arthur Davidson Ficke's "Out of the Silence," just published.

With China, the home of Mah Jong as a starting place, Mrs. Van D. has gone on with her prize ideas until she covers the whole of that vast, mysterious and fascinating world, the Orient. She goes to Japan for the first modern Japanese novel ever translated into English, "An Adopted Husband," by Futabatei. And there is Waley again, with his charming "No Plays of Japan."

India contributes that splendid colorful drama with which George Arliss has had a tremendous run on stage and screen, "The Green Goddess," by William Archer. The land of the Arabian Nights adds James Elroy Flecker's "Hassan," a magnificent romantic spectacle which is to come to New York from London next season. Syria is represented by that remarkable poet-artist, Kahlil Gibran, who has written and illustrated "The Forerunner," "The Madman," "Twenty Drawings" and "The Prophet." And for those who are interested in Egypt and in "history from the inside" there are "My Diaries" by that famous champion of the Eastern races, Wilfred Scawen Blunt, and his "Secret History of the English Occupation of Egypt."

So you see that Mrs. Van D. has not been limited in her choices—for everyone who likes Mah Jong she has found books that will surely please—at the same time rewarding skill and paying a delicate compliment. While her friends are building the ever-intriguing walls of dainty tiles, she is helping them build libraries of ever-intriguing books—for those who turn their faces to the East Wind, her prizes express the very spirit of the East.

ALONG THE SIDE LINES
(By United Press)
PRINCETON.—The Tiger varsity will do more scrimmaging before the Notre Dame game Coach Bill Roper saying he was taking no chances on injuries. He put them through long signal and kicking drill which will continue the rest of the week.

CAMBRIDGE.—Harvard held secret practice yesterday in which strenuous efforts were made to work out defenses for Dartmouth's plays. Special attention was given to speeding up the line offensive.

NEW HAVEN.—Yale's varsity for the first time in two years battled in a routine practice game with the freshmen and put over two touchdowns on the yearlings, although they were held once for downs on the freshman's five yard line. It will probably be the last scrimmage for the regulars before the Brown game Saturday.

ANNAPOLIS.—In a fast scrimmage the scrubs crossed the varsity's goal line for a touchdown, Lucier and Gouge of the scrubs' backfield showed themselves of varsity calibre and may be promoted to the regulars before the end of the season.

WEST POINT.—Harding supplanted Yeomans at Quarter back on the varsity yesterday in practice that lasted long after dark, the big search lights being requisitioned. Mack, varsity tackle will not be able to play against Boston Saturday on account of a sprained ankle received in Tuesday's workout.

ANN HARBOR.—"Hurry-up Yeat" will use Captain Steger at quarter in the Michigan line up against Wisconsin Saturday. It had been decided definitely today. Rockwell will play end. Short scrimmage today winds up drill for the contest.

COLUMBUS.—Ohio State continued its work on offensive drill. The coaches are satisfied with the defensive record of the team which has not been scored on this year. Today's drill winds up practice for the Marion tilt.

IOWA CITY.—The iron barred gates draped wide tarpaul in that none may see the Hawkeye offensive today failed to yield up more than speculation on the style of play Iowa will use against Minnesota. Charley Brookins, hurdle champion will be in the game, it is believed.

MADISON.—Wisconsin works out in Jackson, Mich. tomorrow for the Wolverine game at Ann Arbor.

NORMAN, OK.—"Dutch" Hill, Sooner halfback, was not among the nineteen Sooners who entrained today for Des Moines to meet Drake Saturday. Adverse eligibility ruling by the faculty committee kept the Sooner pride of the backfield at home.

HOUSTON.—Tape off with a light workout this noon the Rice Owls will leave tonight for Fort Worth where they meet the T. C. U. gridders Saturday. It is probable that Hale, halfback, will be shifted to end and Underwood, guard will be moved to the pivot position.

EVANSTON.—Coach Thistlewait is keeping Northwestern so busy in preparation for the Michigan Aggies it hasn't had time to mourn over last Saturday's defeat. Hard scrimmage in huge quantities is his program.

CHICAGO.—Stagg read the riot act to Chicago as freshmen ripped big holes in the Maroon line last night with Ohio plays. McKinney, one of the fastest backs on the team, was lost for the game in the strenuous drill.

SOUTH BEND.—Notre Dame entrained today for Princeton. Injuries sustained in the Army game were still prominent, and it is the general opinion that a weaker squad will play Roper's team than beat the Army. Rockne took 33 players.

PITTSBURGH.—Carnegie Tech may be without the services of two of its best players when it meets Pitt for the "city championship" here Saturday. Captain Newman and Quarterback Bastian were hurt in dummy practice.

FORT WORTH.—Signal running and large doses of skull work with little scrimmage was the program for the balance of the week for the Horned Frogs by Coach Bell today in preparation for the Rice Institute game here Saturday.

COLLEGE STATION.—With his team free from injuries, Coach Dana Bible ordered a stiff workout for the Texas Farmers today. Bible is grooming a 185-pound line.

DALLAS.—All of the S. M. U. regulars with the exception of Dietrich will be in the line up at the opening whistle of the game with the Texas Aggies at the Fair Ground here Saturday. Dietrich is out temporarily with a bum hand.

Ex-Husband Becomes Son-in-Law.

Frances Smith Ummel, eighteen, of Chicago, appeared as a witness in a court there and aided her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Ummel, to secure a divorce from Alexander C. M. Ummel. As soon as the decree was granted Ummel married his stepdaughter, and became his first wife's son-in-law.

AUSTIN.—"Heavy work, physical and mental" was the preparedness motto of Coach Doc Stewart for the Longhorns' closing practice for the entertainment of the Florida Gators here Saturday.

The amount will be placed in escrow by Frank Costello, an admirer of Genaro.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Charlie O'Connell, young Cleveland lightweight was given the referee's decision over Veteran Johnny Dundee, New York, in a 12 round bout here last night. Dundee, Cleveland, defeated Frankie Genaro, Chicago, and Eddie Anderson, Chicago, beat Johnny Norvach, Man field, in two eight round preliminaries.

(Copyright 1921 by Jean-Art Service, Inc.)

Smart Blouse for Immediate Wear

The collar, cuffs and front of the garment and the method of making them as clearly illustrated almost as can be described. As in the first figure, fold and crease the hem of the dress to be cross-stitched. Work the cross-stitch from left to right, making only one half of the stitch. Now, turn to the right side of the garment (Fig. II) and work back, placing the needle into the material between the first row of stitches. Certainly nothing could be simpler. If desired, lines of silk in the color of the blouse may be used instead of red. Or, silk of one color may be used for one part of the stitch with a contrasting shade for the second part. Even in so simple a trimming it is possible to exercise one's taste for color combination and a beautiful touch is one of the priceless jewels in the domain of the mode this season.

One has a broad choice in the selection of materials for smart blouses, even though the list be limited to the crepe de chenes, satins, rayon silks, flannels and Georgettes most frequently featured. Silk broadcloth could hardly be omitted from any list.

Simple and Distinctive

Distinguished by that smart simplicity with which Paris has stamped her most successful blouses this season, this blouse of dark brown crepe satin offsets its simplicity with cross-stitched embroidery in bright red silk.

This is an unusually smart blouse, for all its simplicity, and Paris is featuring it among her choicest models this season. It was originally developed in crepe satin, but looks well in any of the soft, pliable fabrics now in vogue. It fastens in surplice effect, calls for 2 1/2 yards of material 36 inches wide, and can be reproduced by the home dressmaker within a few hours. If desired, the embroidery may be omitted, though it adds a wonderfully smart touch to the blouse.

The cross-stitching appears on

Fig. I.—Hem folded and creased.
Fig. II.—Development of cross-stitch.

The first term six weeks exams have come and with much evidence to the Black Cat football squad. Several members of the squad were declared ineligible and the loss will tell on the squad.

Lucas was also lost from the squad for a while on account of injuries but he is out watching his team mates practice every afternoon and hopes to get back in some time during the next week in time to get to play in the Teague game.

The Black Kittens (Fish squad) journey to Coolidge Thursday afternoon to battle the Fish squad of the Coolidge Hi. The Kittens defeated the Coolidge squad 21 to 0 a week or so ago and hope to accomplish the same feat again.

There are several members of the Fish squad who have the makings of good football players and will be good subs for the next years squad. Masters, quarterback, Travis, half, Wiggins, center, and Ward, full, are showing up good.

In reporting the game, the Marlin Daily Democrat says, "Marlin, running roughshod over their lighter opponents defeated Mexia Hi 41 to 0, at Rimes Park Friday afternoon. However, Mexia flashed a belated forward pass attack in the closing stages of the game that might have permitted the visitors to cross the Bulldog goal line had it been launched early enough."

The Waco Tigers and Corsicana Tigers hook up in gridiron clash Friday in Corsicana and the Waco boys under Paul Tyson should emerge victors by a large score. The Corsicana boys have a good team but they will have lots of trouble with Paul Tysons proteges.

The S. M. U. Mustangs are favorites to win over the A. and M. Aggies in their clash Saturday in Dallas. Led by Chris Cortmechia, who has been termed "the wild bull of the Brazos Valley" the S. M. U. Ponies seem to be headed for the Southwestern championship at a whirlwind gait. Some think that the Aggies will be able to stop them but from the tales broadcasted from the Texas S. M. U. clash there seems to be little chance for Bible's Aggies.

It will be remembered that it was Reiser who blocked an Aggie punt last year that gave the Ponies the break and aided them in defeating the Aggies. But there will hardly be a chance for the Ponies to block one of Fay Wilsons punts this year and the Aggies should have the Ponies outclassed in that department of the game.

The Aggie coaches believe that they have perfected a machine that will stop any line plunging or running attack that the Mustangs might uncover but the outcome of the game will bear entirely upon whether or not it will be able to stop the aerial attack of the Ponies if it does stop the plunging and running attack.

The Marlin Hi Bulldogs will play the Hillsboro Eagles in Hillsboro Friday states J. M. Wilson, Marlin Hi athletics manager. Neither

Paris Fashions This in Velvet

Natural Muskrat Gives Smart Air
One of the most individual of the Paris models yet seen is this line frock in rosewood panne velvet trimmed with colorful braid and natural muskrat.

The trimming as well as the material gives an unusually smart air to this frock, which achieves fulness for the skirt by the use of side panels, and includes the tie-bow with the deep collar. Pockets on either side of the front of the blouse are camouflaged by bands of colorful braid, the same trimming being repeated at the lower edges of the short sleeves and on the skirt panels above the bands of fur. If desired, however, both the panels and the pockets may be omitted, especially if the model is carried out in a less expensive material and assigned to more general service.

In the making of velvet dresses the home dressmaker should be very careful about pressing. For seams or for folds the correct way to press velvet of any variety or velveteen, is to stand a warm iron on its base, then run the seam over the face of the iron rather than pressing the weight of the iron against the material. In the case of brocade materials the work has to be done very lightly, otherwise the figures will be obliterated, except when woven into the warp and woof.

In addition to brown the new blue called Lanvin would be lovely for this velvet frock. Lanvin is a mauve blue, quite as original and delightful as Lanvin green and generally be-

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Men-tho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

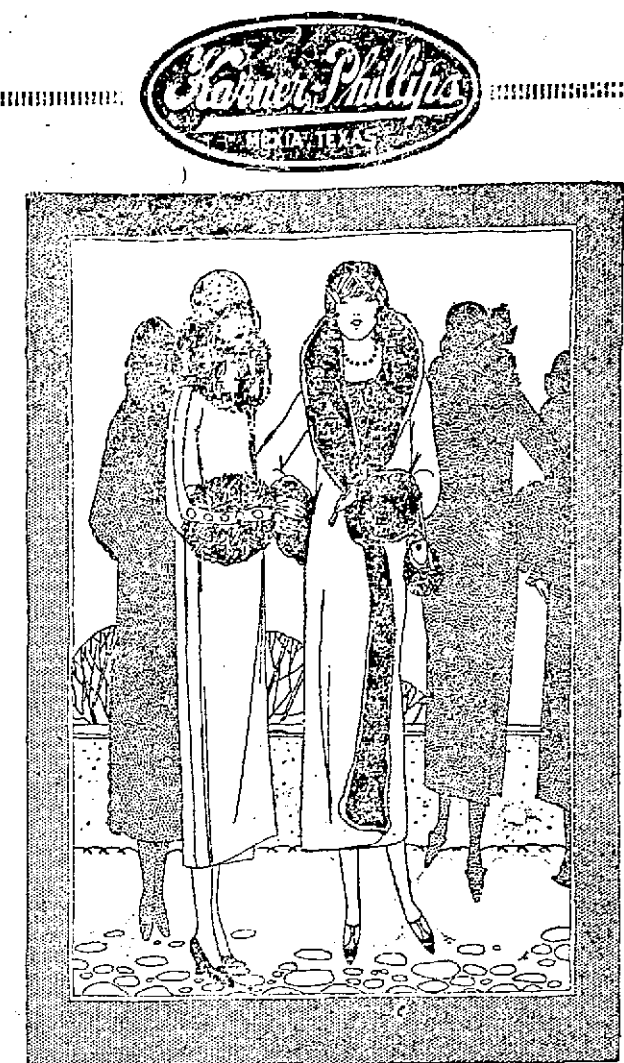

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Men-tho-Sulphur at any drug store.

THE UNSEEN

Cheer up! An ounce of beauty is worth more than a ton of brick. One word of creative genius will outlast a pyramid. One thought that will “feed pure love and enkindle generous ardor” is of more value to the sum of things than a Carnegie fund or a Rockefeller foundation.

Once upon a time there was a man of small stature, a Jew, with defective vision, a common tramp-tentmaker, who wandered into Rome in the days of its glory, and looked about him in amazement. He was jostled in the street by soldiers and hustled aside for the patrician’s chariot to roll by. He gathered a few slaves and folk of the lower classes into a private house and told them of the Vision he had seen, and of the strange truth about life which the Vision had borne into his soul.

Upon the imperial throne sat a cross between a hog and a hyenna, who ruled the world. The hyena-hog killed the thinking Jew. Time came and had his say. Nero became a stench in the nostrils of mankind.

The words of the murdered Jew live today in millions of hearts, have stirred successive generations to a manlier fight with circumstances and grander scope of effort, and, burning brightly in the anteroom of death, have cheered innumerable voyagers on their way into the Unknown.

It was this Jew, Paul, who said:

“We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are unseen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal.”

The common notion of men is directly contrary to this. According to that notion, land is spoken of as “real estate” and houses and book cases are referred to as “personal property,” while dreams, convictions and opinions are regarded as most unreal and impersonal.

When we want a symbol of something that is enduring, something defying the tooth of time, we call up the image of the pyramids or the great wall of China or the Himalaya Mountains. Yet thoughts last longer than these, and when this globe and all that it inherits shall dissolve like some baseless fabric of our vision and leave not a wrack behind, Thoughts will be going on strong with the strength of eternal youth.

The argument that convinces of immortality is not the permanence of our bodies but the very fact that they are deciduous, and we are convinced that our real self is that unflinching spirit that knows no death.

Uncivilized people are the ones who don’t buy their beads in jewelry stores.

Mr. Dawes’ speeches are beginning to sound as if it is about time to have the brakes tested.

The village loafer moves that the word “child” be stricken from “child labor amendment” and the measure added to the law.

“Wanderlust” is a mania ascribed to those who will not settle down and those who prefer to keep going rather than settle up.

Modern Methods In Child Birth

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Within the last few months, 1,000 babies have been brought into the world without pain to the mothers by a new and safer form of “twilight sleep” at the Lying-In Hospital here, it was announced at the convention of the Eastern Society of Anaesthetists.

The discovery was made by Dr. James T. Gwathmey and is claimed to eliminate the danger of poisoning the child which was the cause of “blue babies” under the first method of using “twilight sleep.”

Dr. Gwathmey’s discovery consists in the use of scopolamin, thus reducing the danger of toxic effects on the child.

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. ### Calls Advertising Art Great Cultural Factor

Rip Van Winkle, a sample of the work of Arthur Rackham, latest artist to paint for advertisements.

AMERICAN appreciation of art is being engendered as much by American advertiser as by any other agency in the artistic field. This novel statement is made by E. C. Babcock, of the well known Babcock Galleries of New York, who has just completed an exhaustive study of the art of today.

"Perhaps it seems a far cry to compare the advertising pages of a magazine with an art museum as a factor in building an appreciation of art," says Mr. Babcock, "but let us make the comparison with care. The museums and private galleries are, of course, hung with the works of masters, but they reach nothing like so vast a public as the magazine and newspaper of today."

"The art used in modern advertising reaches the masses. Its distribution is tremendous. And American advertising art is far ahead of that of the rest of the world. It is most encouraging to see the work of the celebrated English artist, Arthur Rackham, who has never before done any such commercial work, being used by a house like Colgate and Company. This is an instance of the new function of advertising as an aid to art, and a significant one. Newspapers and magazines more and more universally have the work of artists of noted skill, which is fine for the public, and good for the artists and the advertising. It is a new factor in the artistic world which must be recognized. On the whole, I believe art is as much indebted to industry as industry is indebted to art."

FARRELL TALKS ON PROSPECTS OF FOOTBALL WINNERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—With both the season game and with most of the big inter-sectional games out of the way, the midwestern practically closed the season's inter-sectional championship.

Marquette has defeated the Navy. Notre Dame has defeated the Army. Chicago has beaten Brown, and Northwestern has beaten Chicago.

Notre Dame has three more inter-sectional games against Princeton, Georgia Tech and Carnegie Tech, and it is not unlikely that three more victories will be chalked up for the midwestern.

The way a conference team have made the best showing of any organized group in the country. In twenty games this year, how many conference teams had members they have won 17, lost two and tied one.

Missouri, one of the big games of the Missouri Valley conference last Chicago 9 to 0. Louisiana came up from the South and beat Indiana and Little Rock. Wisconsin to a tie.

Notre Dame has two more games with conference members, Wisconsin and Northwestern, and the chances aren't very bright for the conference team. The Wisconsin-Notre Dame game will be one of the biggest games of the year as the conference is lined up to a non-leaked Wisconsin to uphold the prestige of the "Big Ten."

Notre Dame is going into the Princeton game Saturday with a team that Kneut Rockne is worried over. The writer saw Notre Dame work out yesterday at South Bend and Rockne admitted that he wasn't so sure. Rockne is double in spending glory, but he is worried about it.

Alvin Karpis who is clinging on a Mexican berth, is out of the game for three weeks with broken hands and Rockne admits gloomily that he had no one to take his star center's place.

The Notre Dame squad leaves tonight for Princeton and the University of Chicago squad also will leave for Northwestern, where the two will play the big game of the conference week against Ohio State on Saturday.

EXCITING PIGSKIN BATTLE EXPECTED FRIDAY AFTERNOON ON LOCAL GRIDIRON AT 3:30

If the weather conditions do not change within the next twenty-four hours, the Mexia Hi Black Cats and the Hubbard City Jackrabbits will have the most ideal football weather of the season for the game Friday afternoon. So far the games have been mostly slow and sluggish, without much pep on account of the weather.

As all followers of the High School will remember that several years ago these two schools were the most bitter rivals of any in this section and the big game of the season always was looked forward to when Hubbard and Mexia came together on the gridiron. These schools have not played for a good many years and the visitors are of unknown quantity, although we have not heard of them losing any games so far this season.

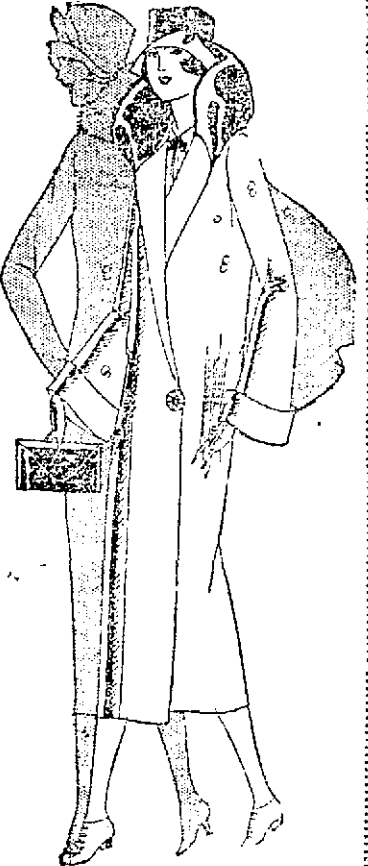

Coach Potet has his squad in good physical condition with the exception of Lucas, who has a bad shoulder, and Buford who will be out of Friday's game. This is the last chance local football fans will have an opportunity of seeing the Black Cats in action at home for perhaps several weeks, as the next two games will be played in Teague and at Groesbeck, as yet the dates of November 14th, and 21st, remain open with the final game of the season coming on the local Gridiron Turkey Day when Coach Country Williamson comes to Mexia with his Mart aggregation.

The game will start promptly at 3:30 o'clock, Friday afternoon, at Nowlin park. Every backer of the Mexia High School be on hand to watch the Cats fight their way to victory.

Big Spring—Drilling resumed at Brunson well No. 1, 27 miles southwest of here.

There Was Slush Fund in 1920 Also

(By United Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Oct. 21.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler charged that E. T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia banker, named by Senator La Follette as a direct beneficiary of republican fund contributions in 1920, was assuming control of an attempt to raise an alleged huge slush fund for republican campaign purposes, in a speech here last night.
Speaking to a representative gathering of the farmer-labor party the independent vice presidential candidate related the story of the indictment in 1922 of officials of the United Gas Improvement Company of which Stotesbury was a director.
R. Colton Lewis, who was attorney when the indictment was returned but was supplanted by Harry F. West, testified before the Brookhart investigating committee, Wheeler declared.
"Put yourself in Attorney General Daugherty's position," Lewis told the committee that "West said to him," Wheeler said. "He has indicted these people and finds now they are friends and contributed to the campaign of which he was in charge."
The cases were dismissed after many delays in their prosecution, Wheeler said.

Long, Hard Winter Coming, Says Famous Washington Meteorologist

"We are going to have an early, long and severe winter," this isn't the usual, annual prediction of the coal merchant, nor the idle sales talk of the fur-coat salesman. It comes from no less an authority than Herbert J. Browne, famous Washington meteorologist.
Mr. Browne has recently jumped into prominence by his uncanny, long-distance weather predictions which have come true in every case, over a period of years. His new scientific theories for weather forecasting have been heralded widely in both scientific and popular magazines, here and abroad.
Coal merchants, fur-coat salesmen and the public do give heed to Browne's advice. So do railroads, steamship lines and winter resorts. The extent to which the latter great American business is affected by his predictions is suggested in a recent announcement in a Florida paper:
"With supreme confidence in the predictions of Herbert J. Browne, who has announced an early, long and severe winter, directors of the Miami Chamber of Commerce, have decided to announce the opening of the Miami season in November, a month earlier than any previous season in Florida history."
"To this decision the Chamber was aided by assurance of co-operation of railroads, steamship lines and hotels. Through trains from Chicago to Miami will this year begin November 15, with corresponding advance in dates of through cars from eastern and middle western cities. Arthur Pryor has also consented to increase the Miami stay of his famous band to eighteen weeks, coming down for the earlier opening. Racing, golf, tennis and other schedules have been arranged accordingly, with a number of sport tournaments scheduled for November."
The American Automobile Association has estimated that 60,000 motor tourists will this year make an early start southward, for whom the Association has prepared a special tour book showing all roads leading to Miami.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE WILL CONTEST MONOPOLY OF AIR

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The Chicago Tribune today announced it would test the validity of the Associated Press rule prohibiting member newspapers from broadcasting election returns and news matter furnished by the news agency or collected from territory to which the Associated Press exclusively is entitled.

It is a clash between the old and the new Tribune declared. The following excerpt of the Associated Press notice, just received by the Tribune, is the nub of the situation:

"You are requested to co-operate in enforcement of the established rules governing the display of bulletins and preventing utilization of for radio broadcasting of Associated Press returns from your territory to which the Associated Press exclusively is entitled."

"By this notice the Associated Press seeks to prevent the radio dissemination of news by member newspapers in this case the results of the National election into the homes of the people. The Tribune will test the validity of this rule," the Tribune declared in part.

"The issue is regarded as in effect a clash between the old and the new. The ruling seems not to take into account the new element in modern life which has enabled leaders in politics and other lines of activity to speak direct to millions during the present campaign. It would forbid the broadcasting of any Cook county election results by the Tribune for example, no matter if gathered by the paper's own reporters."

"This rule appears to take on the aspect of monopolistic control. It is of no direct advantage to the Tribune to circulate important news by radio on the night before its morning issue appears with the identical news. Perhaps it would seem more canny to preserve in darkness the news that Coolidge had been elected or that there is a deadlock over the presidency until it could be revealed to the interested public at the news stands on the morning after."

"But this is the era of radio. Like other papers, the Tribune recognizing this fact, has established a broadcasting bureau—at considerable expense and with no tangible compensatory returns. The people have installed radios in their homes; they listen to public addresses; they want and expect the quick announcement of election results."

Accordingly, before yielding to the ruling of the Associated Press, this newspaper proposes to consult lawyers and seek a ruling in the courts—even to the highest court—

Country's Record Year for Big Disasters; Red Cross Gives Relief in Many States

RED CROSS WORKERS AND NURSE RESCUING A TORNADO VICTIM FROM RUINS OF HIS HOME.

WHEN the angry elements crash man's works about him; wherever tornado, cyclone, flood, fire, explosion inflict death, injury and misery, the news dispatches almost invariably convey the assurance that Red Cross nurses and workers are on duty immediately. In the 12 months ended June 30 last the American Red Cross administered relief in 192 disasters, a new annual record in the United States.

This was a monthly average of 16 disasters. The year's total deaths amounted to 735, nearly 2,000 persons were injured, and almost 44,000 were left homeless. Every week of the year the disaster loss was a little under a million dollars, the total losses for the year being estimated at more than $15,000,000.

The annual report of the American Red Cross states that disasters wrecked 2,450 buildings and damaged 5,220, in the territory embraced from Maine to California and Minnesota to Texas. The Red Cross in all areas housed 5,706 persons, 2,993 alone after the recent tornado in Northern Ohio, and the organization furnished food to 25,460.

The year's disasters included 13 great fires, 16 floods, six mine explosions, a powder mill explosion and an explosion in a starch factory, three cloudbursts, seven cyclones, 14 tornados, and five disasters due to hail or wind storms. All these disasters occurred during the latter part of April, in May and June. The Red Cross disbursed in relief work $737,692.87 of National and Chapter funds.

The industry of the Red Cross doesn't end when the immediate needs of the injured and homeless are satisfied, but its workers are busy over long periods in devastated districts engaged in rehabilitating the victims. In 33 of the larger disasters of the year the trained workers from the National organization continued in service for many months.

The whole nation looks to the Red Cross when calamity strikes, and the organization in the last year increased its equipment so as to be certain that it will retain this national confidence. Under the direction of executives at Washington a mobile disaster unit has been organized with a reserve of experienced disaster workers standing ready for any call to duty anywhere. This unit has at its service the airplanes of the Army, Navy and Post Office Department and can place its nurses and administrators in the midst of a wreck-stricken section in the shortest possible time.

The six mine explosions were especially severe in taking toll of life, 253 men being killed. This type of disaster always means long-time family tragedies due to the loss of wage earners and involves the setting up of trust funds through Red Cross activity for the care and education of minor children and provision for widowed mothers.

Tornados and floods cause the most widespread desolation. No one can escape their path. The battered belongings of rich and poor are piled in a confused tangle. After the first shock organization begins to assert itself. Invariably close to the center of concerted endeavor is found the local Red Cross Chapter, whose volunteer workers drop everything to give relief, and this work is intelligently done because these workers have been schooled in effective methods of handling such problems.

The universal presence of the Red Cross in time of great distress is not surprising when it is known that there are more Red Cross Chapters than there are counties in the United States; that the six divisions of the national organization have headquarters at Boston, Chicago, Atlanta, Washington, St. Louis and San Francisco. The Division has an organization similar to that of National Headquarters at Washington, and the Division managers comprise an executive staff in the field competent to handle every situation in which the industry and humanitarian endeavors of the American Red Cross are enlisted.

Those who have gone to the scenes of devastation have been impressed and inspired by the way the Red Cross people drop in line to give relief in time of dire need. This work never rests and it is a foremost activity of the Red Cross which illustrated why in peace time the American Red Cross needs great strength in interested members back of it. It is one of the foremost reasons why everybody is urged to join or renew membership in the Red Cross this year during the enrollment period opening Armistice Day, November 11, and ending Thanksgiving Day, November 27. As the extent of Red Cross operations depends upon the strength of individual memberships, the reason for joining has a direct appeal to all persons—for the Red Cross is the people's "gigion of mercy."
